

DDE

THE WHITE HOUSE

March 28, 1955

Dear Mr. Davis:

I wonder if it would be convenient for you to come to an informal stag dinner on the evening of Thursday, April twenty-first. I hope to gather together a small group, and I should like very much for you to attend if it is possible for you to do so.

Because of the informality of the occasion, I suggest that we meet at the White House about half past seven, have a reasonably early dinner, and devote the evening to a general chat. While I am hopeful that you can attend, I realize that you already may have engagements which would interfere. If so, I assure you of my complete understanding.

I shall probably wear a black tie, but business suit will be entirely appropriate.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

P.S. As a personal favor to me, would you keep this reasonably confidential until after the event?
